Safe Harbor Statement

The following information contains, or may be deemed to contain, “forward-looking statements” (as defined in the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995). Most forward-looking statements contain words that identify them as forward-looking, such as “may”, “plan”, “seek”, “will”, “expect”, “intend”, “estimate”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “project”, “opportunity”, “target”, “goal”, “growing” and “continue” or other words that relate to future events, as opposed to past or current events. By their nature, forward-looking statements are not statements of historical facts and involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future. These statements give Allison Transmission’s current expectation of future events or its future performance and do not relate directly to historical or current events or Allison Transmission’s historical or future performance. As such, Allison Transmission’s future results may vary from any expectations or goals expressed in, or implied by, the forward-looking statements included in this presentation, possibly to a material degree.

Allison Transmission cannot assure you that the assumptions made in preparing any of the forward-looking statements will prove accurate or that any long-term financial goals will be realized. All forward-looking statements included in this presentation speak only as of the date made, and Allison Transmission undertakes no obligation to update or revise publicly any such forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. In particular, Allison Transmission cautions you not to place undue weight on certain forward-looking statements pertaining to potential growth opportunities, long-term financial goals or the value we currently ascribe to certain tax attributes set forth herein. Actual results may vary significantly from these statements.

Allison Transmission’s business is subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, which may cause future results of operations to vary significantly from those presented herein.

EBITDA Margin⁽¹⁾

EBITDA – CapEx Margin⁽¹⁾

(1) The LTM period and LTM EBITDA, which excludes non-recurring or one-time items as designated by each entity, are based on information available in the entity's most recent quarterly or annual report as of 4/30/2012. EBITDA included above may not be consistent with such entity's reported EBITDA or Adjusted EBITDA, if available.

(2) Represents Adjusted LTM EBITDA and Adjusted LTM EBITDA less capex (excluding non-recurring capex related to non-North American manufacturing expansion and new product-related capex) as of 3/31/2012. See appendix for comments regarding the presentation of non-GAAP information.

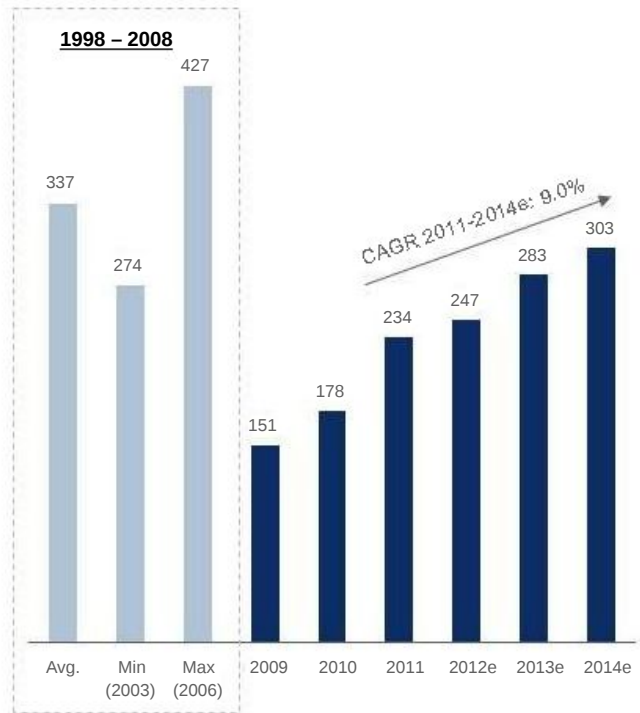

Multiple Organic Growth Opportunities

-  Benefit from Developed Markets Recovery
-  Increase Penetration of Fully Automatic Transmissions
-  Accelerate Adoption in Emerging Markets
-  Capitalize on Rising Demand for Energy and Commodities
-  Continue New Technology and Product Development
-  Increase Share in Underserved Markets

Cyclical Recovery in Developed On-Highway Markets

North America Production in Allison's Core Addressable Market (units in 000s) ⁽¹⁾

- Growth opportunity driven by continued cyclical recovery in core North American market (~34% of 2011 sales)
- Production has rebounded from cyclical lows and growth is expected
- Allison's growth is supported by pent up demand from deferred purchases
- Continued demand for fuel efficient vehicles to provide incremental growth

(1) Source: ACT Research, May 2012. Includes Class 4-7 Truck and Bus (Excluding Transit and Coach) and Class 8 Straight Truck.

Increase Penetration of Fully-Automatic Transmissions

- Ongoing need for productivity improvements

- Better acceleration and trip times allow increased miles and revenue
- Improved fuel efficiency as a function of work performed
- More vehicle uptime

- Focus on reducing life-cycle costs

- Lower maintenance expense
- Improved fuel efficiency
- Increased vehicle residual value

- Micro / demographic trends

- Easier to operate – increases pool of qualified drivers
- Less driver training and turnover
- Safety factors

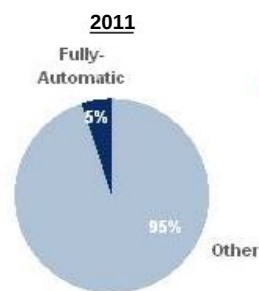

Global Penetration of Fully-Automatic Transmissions

North America ⁽¹⁾

- Allison has significantly increased market share in North America

Non-North America ⁽²⁾

- Low penetration in markets outside North America presents a significant growth opportunity

(1) Includes Class 4-7 trucks, Class 8 straight trucks, buses (school, conventional transit, shuttle and coach) and motorhomes.

(2) Includes medium-and heavy-duty commercial vehicles.

Increasing Adoption in Emerging Markets – China Case Study

- Allison is the #1 supplier of fully-automatic transmissions in China as a result of targeting specific vocations
 - Substantial installed base of over 35,000 transmissions in China
 - Secular growth due to low penetration
- Allison’s existing bus presence serves as entry point for incremental penetration
- Significant growth opportunities by targeting a wide range of vocational applications
 - Government emphasis on equipment modernization for mining, rescue operations, school buses and other applications
 - Construction and oil field sector

Global Off-Highway Growth Opportunities

• Mining and Construction

- 3% of total sales⁽¹⁾
- NA, Europe, Middle East, Africa and China
- Increasing global demand for commodities
- Increasing urbanization in emerging markets

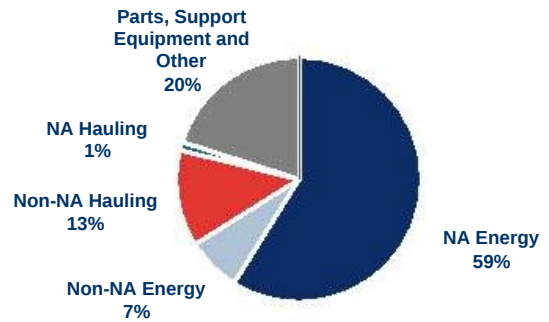

• Energy Sectors

- 14% of total sales⁽¹⁾
- Considerable end market cyclicality
- Multiple opportunities in exploration, fracturing and oil and gas support

New Product Development

Class 8 Metro

- Developing a ten-speed fully-automatic transmission targeted at Class 8 tractors serving urban markets
 - Large, addressable market size of ~60k units
 - Historically a “manual” market under addressed by Allison’s fully-automatic product portfolio
- Currently being tested by customers

TRACTOR SERIES TC10

Hybrid Commercial Vehicle

- Leading development of first fully-automatic hybrid truck transmission for the Class 6-7 market
- Awarded $62.8 million U.S. Department of Energy cost-share grant for hybrid development
 - Fuel economy improvements of ~25%-35%
 - Target Vocations: Refuse, Pick-Up & Delivery/Distribution, Utility and Shuttle Bus

Average Annual Spend over $110 Million in Product-Related Research and Development Since Acquisition

(5) 2011 free cash flow adjusted for non-recurring activity of: Fee to terminate services agreement with Sponsors $16

- Significant sales growth since the 2009 trough
- Resiliency through the downturn, evidenced by increasing EBITDA margins and strong free cash flow generation
- Continued investments in global commercial capabilities, new product development and low-cost country manufacturing
- Strong free cash flow driven by high margins, low maintenance capex, and de minimis cash income taxes

Sustainable Margins with Further Enhancement Opportunities

Long-Term Customer Supply Agreements

~90% of 2011 N.A. On-Highway Unit Volume was covered by long-term customer supply agreements

Manufacturing Efficiencies (hours/unit)

Hours Per Unit continue to decline

Workforce Optimization (cost/employee)

Significant savings driven by retirement of Tier I workers; 800 hourly employees are retirement eligible (~53% of workforce)

International Manufacturing

India (~$107mm total investment; ~$7mm remaining⁽¹⁾)

- New facility constructed to better serve Asia-Pacific

Income Tax Attributes

Income Tax attributes overview

- Carlyle and Onex acquired Allison from General Motors in August 2007
 - Asset deal structure
 - Step-up in basis for U.S. federal income tax purposes
- As of 12/31/2011 Allison had $3.3bn of unamortized intangible assets
 - Expect annual U.S. federal income tax deductions of $315mm through 2021 and $183mm in 2022
- Net operating loss carryforward of $382mm as of 12/31/2011

($ millions)	Total	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022

Appendix: Non-GAAP Financial Information

Non-GAAP Financial Information

We use Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow to evaluate our performance relative to that of our peers. In addition, the Senior Secured Credit Facility has certain covenants that incorporate Adjusted EBITDA. However, Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow are not measurements of financial performance under GAAP, and these metrics may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Adjusted net income is calculated as the sum of net income (loss), interest expense, net, income tax expense, trade name impairment and amortization of intangible assets, less cash interest expense, net and cash income taxes. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as the sum of Adjusted net income, cash interest expense, net, cash income taxes, depreciation of property, plant and equipment and other adjustments as defined by the Senior Secured Credit Facility and as further described below. Adjusted EBITDA margin is calculated as Adjusted EBITDA divided by net sales. Free cash flow is calculated as net cash provided by operating activities less capital expenditures. Adjusted free cash flow is free cash flow adjusted for non-recurring items.

We use Adjusted net income to measure our overall profitability because it better reflects our cash flow generation by capturing the actual cash taxes paid rather than our tax expense as calculated under GAAP and excludes the impact of the non-cash annual amortization of certain intangible assets that were created at the time of the Acquisition Transaction. We use Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin to evaluate and control our cash operating costs and to measure our operating profitability. We use adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow to evaluate the amount of cash generated by the business that, after the capital investment needed to maintain and grow our business, can be used for strategic opportunities, including investing in our business and strengthening our balance sheet. We believe the presentation of Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash and free cash flow enhances our investors' overall understanding of the financial performance and cash flow of our business.

You should not consider Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow as an alternative to net income (loss), determined in accordance with GAAP, as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to net cash provided by operating activities, determined in accordance with GAAP, as an indicator of Allison's cash flow.

Safe Harbor Statement

The following information contains, or may be deemed to contain, “forward-looking statements” (as defined in the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995). Most forward-looking statements contain words that identify them as forward-looking, such as “may”, “plan”, “seek”, “will”, “expect”, “intend”, “estimate”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “project”, “opportunity”, “target”, “goal”, “growing” and “continue” or other words that relate to future events, as opposed to past or current events. By their nature, forward-looking statements are not statements of historical facts and involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future. These statements give Allison Transmission’s current expectation of future events or its future performance and do not relate directly to historical or current events or Allison Transmission’s historical or future performance. As such, Allison Transmission’s future results may vary from any expectations or goals expressed in, or implied by, the forward-looking statements included in this presentation, possibly to a material degree.

Allison Transmission cannot assure you that the assumptions made in preparing any of the forward-looking statements will prove accurate or that any long-term financial goals will be realized. All forward-looking statements included in this presentation speak only as of the date made, and Allison Transmission undertakes no obligation to update or revise publicly any such forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. In particular, Allison Transmission cautions you not to place undue weight on certain forward-looking statements pertaining to potential growth opportunities, long-term financial goals or the value we currently ascribe to certain tax attributes set forth herein. Actual results may vary significantly from these statements.

Allison Transmission’s business is subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, which may cause future results of operations to vary significantly from those presented herein.

Non-GAAP Financial Information

We use Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow to evaluate our performance relative to that of our peers. In addition, the Senior Secured Credit Facility has certain covenants that incorporate Adjusted EBITDA. However, Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow are not measurements of financial performance under GAAP, and these metrics may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Adjusted net income is calculated as the sum of net income (loss), interest expense, net, income tax expense, trade name impairment and amortization of intangible assets, less cash interest expense, net and cash income taxes. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as the sum of Adjusted net income, cash interest expense, net, cash income taxes, depreciation of property, plant and equipment and other adjustments as defined by the Senior Secured Credit Facility and as further described below. Adjusted EBITDA margin is calculated as Adjusted EBITDA divided by net sales. Free cash flow is calculated as net cash provided by operating activities less capital expenditures. Adjusted free cash flow is free cash flow adjusted for non-recurring items.

We use Adjusted net income to measure our overall profitability because it better reflects our cash flow generation by capturing the actual cash taxes paid rather than our tax expense as calculated under GAAP and excludes the impact of the non-cash annual amortization of certain intangible assets that were created at the time of the Acquisition Transaction. We use Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin to evaluate and control our cash operating costs and to measure our operating profitability. We use adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow to evaluate the amount of cash generated by the business that, after the capital investment needed to maintain and grow our business, can be used for strategic opportunities, including investing in our business and strengthening our balance sheet. We believe the presentation of Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash and free cash flow enhances our investors' overall understanding of the financial performance and cash flow of our business.

You should not consider Adjusted net income, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, adjusted free cash flow and free cash flow as an alternative to net income (loss), determined in accordance with GAAP, as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to net cash provided by operating activities, determined in accordance with GAAP, as an indicator of Allison's cash flow.
